

MEMORY MACHINE // DIGITAL PALIMPSEST

THE MACHINE THAT FORGETS

A computational design project exploring the intersection of human memory decay, artificial intelligence, and architectural reconstruction. This repository contains the logic for procedurally reconstructing memories, harvesting digital artifacts, and compiling a digital palimpsest. It is the in this translation where gaps in memory and translational glitches begin to produce new architectural elements.

